

OUTLINES.

President Roosevelt yesterday discussed with his callers at the White House the features of his controversy with E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate; he says Harriman is mad because he could not root Senator Depew out so he (Harriman) could get his place in the United States Senate; the President also made a lame reply to Judge Parker's charges about corporation subscriptions to the Republican campaign fund.—At a banquet given in Greensboro last night by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club, President Finley, of the Southern Railway, responded to the toast, "North Carolina and its Relations to the Railroad Problem"; he spoke of the joint interest of the public and the railroads in their successful operation and declared that rates cannot be fixed arbitrarily by law, but must depend on conditions that are changeable; he asserted that rates are not fixed to pay interest on watered stock and pointed out that if they were every railroad could easily declare dividends.—The critical stage in New York this morning when the lunacy commission will make its report to the court, the commission having completed its work yesterday; the commission made a physical and mental examination of Thaw and cordially shook hands with him, leading him to confidently expect a finding that he is sane and ready for a resumption of the trial; Thaw wrote to Attorney Delmas to be ready to go on with the trial; if the trial is resumed it is believed a verdict will be reached by the end of the week.—A subject discussed in Cincinnati yesterday at the meeting of the American Educational Society was the need of 2,000 preachers to fill the empty pulpits throughout the country.—The Nicaraguan Minister yesterday protested at Washington concerning interference by the American Minister with the war in Central America.—New York markets: Money on call, easy 2 to 3 1/2 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 1/4; closing bid and offered at 2 1/4; spot cotton, 5 points higher; closing quiet, at 10.95; flour, steady, with a fair inquiry; wheat, steady; No. 2 red, 82 1/2 elevator; corn, steady; No. 2, 56 elevator; oats, steady; mixed, 46; turpentine, firm, 71 1/2 to 72; rosin, firm; strained, common to good, 4.50 to 4.55.

A man can't make a temperate statement when he is full of his subject.

It is curious how many men are liars and President is the one lied on so often.

President Roosevelt seems to come into contact with more liars than any other living man. What kind of company does he keep?

Naturalists tell us that only 10 per cent. of all the animals on earth have backbones. That is about the same proportion of men who've got 'em.

If the commission in lunacy finds that Harry Thaw's noggin is not full of bread-crumbs, District Attorney Jerome will want to kick himself for falling down so early in the game.

A Chicago University professor makes an argument in favor of fairy tales. Some married men could furnish him plenty of proof that fairy tales told late at night after they come from down town have acted like a charm on their wives. Married men know that there's nothing wrong with fairy tales told right.

The last man to be strung on President Roosevelt's string of liars is E. H. Harriman. However, he kicks back, while he is dangling there and leaves the public to infer that the reason the White House man tries to put him in the attitude of a tale-teller is because the President hates to take time to squirm when the limelight is turned on so suddenly.

J. Pierpont Morgan made arrangements with President Roosevelt to receive four of the big railroad presidents, but when the magnates were on the eve of starting for Washington they suddenly sidetracked. There was some wonder that they didn't go on to the White House and go up against Teddy, but the President's little memorandum sent out to the newspapers shows that the railroad men could see a red light all the way from New York to Washington.

Major Seaman, a United States army surgeon, who spent some time in the Philippines, remarked in an address to a Boston audience: "To suppose that from a low-bred animal of the Filipino type there could be evolved in a single generation one worthy of or competent to exercise self-government is to deny the law of anthropology and natural selection and to endeavor, the Major must know that there is a precedent among Bostonians for defying the law of anthropology in believing that the black man was capable of exercising citizenship right after he was freed from slavery."

Opinions Delivered in Six Cases One Being From New Hanover.

PARDONS WHITE BROTHERS

Council of State Recommended This Action to the Governor and He Will Act Upon It—Penitentiary and Hospital Boards.

(By Southern Bell Telephone Co.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 3.—The Supreme Court delivered opinion in six appeals today and dismissed another under rule 17. The opinions are as follows: State vs. Robinson, Sampson, new trial; Stone vs. Railroad, New Hanover, error; Moseley vs. Johnson, Sampson, affirmed in both appeals; Floors vs. Insurance Company, Wayne, affirmed; Britt vs. Carolina Northern Railroad, Robeson, new trial; Hamilton vs. Highlands, Moore, error; Johns vs. Railroad, Guilford, defendant appeals dismissed under rule 17. The case of Stone against Railroad from New Hanover was one in which the plaintiff has sued the railroad company for penalties on a car load of hay shipped from Wilmington to Cerro Gordo, N. C., the car having remained on the yards at Wilmington from April 20th to May 10th at which time it was reported by the agent of the Atlantic Coast Line in bad order. Later the shipment was made and it was testified to that Stone and Company had received pay for the car. The new trial does not invalidate the statute, but the case goes back on instructions of the court to the jury. It was held that not Stone and Company, but the consignees at Cerro Gordo were the parties aggrieved.

The Directors of the Central Hospital organized here today with John W. Thompson chairman and Dr. J. D. Biggs secretary of the Board. Dr. Jas. McKee was re-elected superintendent for a period of six years.

The Directors of the State Penitentiary met here today and arranged to turn over to the State Treasurer the $175,000 of accumulated profits to the credit of the Board, in pursuance of an act of the last Legislature.

Governor Glenn opened the report of the Council of State this morning, and found that the Council recommended a pardon for Thomas J. White and Chalmers White, the two brothers of Concord, who are serving six years sentences in the penitentiary for the killing of Russell Sherrill, whom they charged with the ruin of their niece. Governor Glenn had referred the question of pardon to the Council for the reason that he was of counsel for the prosecution at the time the Whites were convicted. Acting on the decision of the Council of State, the Governor will at once issue the pardons, along with an official statement of the case and the reasons for the pardons. The Whites have served about two years of their sentences and have made model prisoners. One of them has been running the electric light plant of the prison, and the other has been doing service in the prison hospital and dining room. When they began service of sentence they created something of a sensation by coming to Raleigh with their counsel several days ahead of the time for beginning sentence and surrendered to the prison authorities without the intervention of an officer.

Shanty Car on Fire.

The alarm of fire from box 17 at 11:15 o'clock last night was on account of the kitchen car of a construction train of the Seaboard Air Line being on fire on the S. A. L. tracks, between Fifth and Sixth streets, in the northern part of the city. The fire ladders responded to the alarm, but could not reach the car with a line of hose. However, they laid hold of Fourth and Howard streets, and put the blaze out from there. The fire started from a stove in the kitchen and the car was consumed all but the bottom and trucks.

Miss Mary Allen Short, Bride of Mr.
Arthur Bertram Skelding, in Pretury Ceremony at "Ingleside," Near Lake Waccamaw.

A pretty wedding ceremony celebrated yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at "Ingleside," the beautiful country home of the bride's parents at Lake Waccamaw, N. C., joined in marriage Miss Mary Allen Short, the attractive young daughter of Col. and Mrs. Henry B. Short, of that place, and Mr. Arthur Bertram Skelding, of Wilmington. A party of Wilmington friends and relatives left the city at two o'clock yesterday afternoon on a special train over the Atlantic Coast Line to attend the happy event, returning yesterday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was impressively performed by the Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop of East Carolina, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James' Parish, this city.

The beautiful country residence of the Shorts was a dream of beauty in its pretty decorations for the event, and immediately preceding the ceremony, selections of classical music added to the charm of the surroundings. The strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March heralded the approach of the bride. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marguerite Ashley Short, as maid of honor, and Miss Isabel Rountree, of Wilmington, and Miss Maud Holt, of Charlotte, as bridesmaids.

The bride's wedding gown was of white ivory satin, embroidered with pearls, trimmed with point lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was becomingly gowned in white lace and carried a bouquet of maiden hair ferns. The bridesmaids were also attired in white lace gowns and carried large bouquets of bride's roses.

The groom was attended as best man by his friend, Mr. M. F. H. Gouveneur, of Wilmington.

Southern smilax, palms and ferns and white flowers were used in the artistic decorations of the home. Easter lilies were used in the parlors, where the wedding was celebrated. Apple blossoms and maiden hair ferns were the decorations of the dining room, and wild flowers were scattered in profusion about the house, the scene being one of Springtime and exceeding great beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Skelding left immediately after the ceremony on the south-bound train for a wedding tour through Florida, to Cuba and other points. They will return to the city on or about the twentieth of the month and make their home in this city, the groom being general manager of the Consolidated Railways Light and Power Company.

WRIGHTSVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Closing Exercises Tuesday Night, a Delightful Affair.

The Wrightsville Sound Public School, taught by Miss Fannie B. Wood, closed the Spring term with a delightful entertainment in the school room Tuesday evening. A very large number of friends and patrons were in attendance and a most creditable programme of music, dialogues, recitations, etc., was carried out by the children and in addition there were several selections by Prof. and Mrs. H. Womersley, of Wilmington. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of class pins to the following pupils for distinctions in scholarship, deportment, etc., viz: Misses Maggie and Bessie Roberts, Elizabeth Westbrook and Aubrey Macomber.

After the school exercises the ladies gave a delightful entertainment for the benefit of the Methodist Church building fund at Wrightsville. Delicious refreshments were served, one of the main features of the entertainment having been a voting contest for the most popular young lady. Miss Janie Ketchum won with 1,515 votes, while Miss Sadie Dilor was second with 1,317. Miss Lula Conway was third with 692 votes. Upwards of $600 was received from the entertainment for the church fund and every one present had a most delightful time.

Kinyon, whose sad death in Chester, Pa., was noted in these columns yesterday morning, reached the city yesterday evening on the train from the North, accompanied by the bereaved parents and sister, Mrs. Burke. The casket was tenderly borne to the residence of Mrs. E. R. Savage, No. 718 South Sixth street, where many friends called last night to extend their condolences to the bereaved ones. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Fifth Street M. E. Church and the remains will be interred in Oakdale cemetery.

mains to Wilmington.

A telegram received in the city last night brought the sad news of the death of Mr. J. W. Lamb, at his home in Goldsboro last evening about 8 o'clock, after an illness of but a few days. No particulars were given further than that the remains will be brought to Wilmington, announcement of which with the arrangements will be made later.

Stockholders of North Carolina Home Building Association In Session.

THE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Reports Show Past Year to Have Been Most Satisfactory in Every Respect—Those Who Direct the Affairs of Organization.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the North Carolina Home Building Association was held last night in the Mayor's office at the City Hall. A goodly number of the stockholders were present and the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the institution. Mr. Marlin O'Brien was called to the chair and Mr. James H. Taylor, Jr., the secretary, kept a record of the proceedings.

The report of the Secretary and Treasurer showed the Association to be in a most flourishing condition, the finances being in every way satisfactory to the stockholders. At the conclusion of the reading of the report a motion was unanimously carried thanking the officers of the Association for the safe and conservative manner in which they have conducted the affairs of the institution in the past. Not a dollar of the money of the stockholders has ever been lost since the organization of the Association. The indications are very bright for another successful year for the North Carolina Home. The following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year:

President—C. W. Yates.
Vice President—Mr. J. I. Bear.
Secretary and Treasurer—Mr. J. H. Taylor, Jr.

Directors—C. W. Yates, R. R. Bellamy, J. W. Freeman, J. Well, James Owen Reilly, H. F. Wilder, F. L. Higgins, A. D. Brown, D. M. Beardsley, M. O'Brien, J. I. Bear, James H. Taylor, Jr., W. H. Bernard and W. H. Alderman.

The directorate of the Association is composed of some of the best known and most conservative business men, whose aim has ever been to make careful investment of funds, and who take personal interest in all the affairs of those who entrust their savings to them.

Mr. Yates was elected last night for the eighteenth consecutive year as president of the Carolina Home, showing that the Association is one of the pioneers in the Building and Loan life of the city. A majority of the Board of Directors have been associated with him for nearly as many years. Mr. James H. Taylor, Jr., the secretary, is enterprising and capable. He was with Sheriff Stedman for a number of years that he was secretary and treasurer of the institution and understands every detail of the work.

The annual Easter german of L'Arioso Club last night in the Masonic Temple ball room was a delightful one for the large number of couples who participated. Vegetables in Wilmington Section Damaged From 25 to 30 Per Cent.
Strawberries Perhaps Not So Much—Temperature.

It will require a day or two of sunshine to bring out the real damage that has been done to truck crops in the Wilmington section, by reason of a fairly heavy frost which occurred in this territory yesterday morning. Vegetables, rather than strawberries have chiefly suffered from the unseasonable cold, and with these plants the first effects of the frost are not always apparent until after the sunshine strikes the foliage for a day or two. Strawberries are cut off some and the season has been retarded, but to what extent no one can say as yet. Although the growers had ample warning of the frost from the Weather Bureau, it was impossible for them to protect themselves entirely, but so far as they were able the tender vegetation was covered and it is believed that a minimum of damage has been done. It is nothing like a calamity, and the colder weather that prevailed in the trucking region further north may bring it about that what the growers here have lost will be more than made up by the delayed and cut-off shipments from other territory.

Irish potatoes have been cut down to some extent, but these will put out again. Green peas suffered perhaps worst. They were blooming, and the crops were practically blasted. Lettuce grown in the open was damaged about 25 per cent, perhaps more where it was headed. Radishes and beets were cut off some. In the section around Wrightsboro considerable damage was done to beans. This may be 25 per cent. or more. A large East Wilmington grower with whom a reporter talked yesterday, estimates the damage to vegetables on an average of from 25 to 30 per cent. This, he thought, would be offset some by better prices after the cold.

The minimum temperature for the 24 hours ending at 8 P. M., yesterday, was 32 degrees, exactly freezing. Further removed from the coast this record was slightly lowered. For today we are promised fair and warmer weather.

MR. MAX FIGMAN COMING.

"The Man on the Box" at Academy
Saturday Night.

By all odds the most important social and dramatic event of the season will be the appearance of Mr. Max Figman at the Academy next Saturday night, supported by a clever company. Mr. Figman's New York comedy success, "The Man on the Box," was dramatized by Grace Livingston Furniss from Harold MacGrath's book of the same name, which had a tremendous vogue. Mr. Figman is one of the most prominent members of the American dramatic profession, and although he has not been long known as a star, has been identified with many of the greatest successes of the New York City stage and has never secured a personal favor. His experience has been broad and varied, starting with comic opera and musical comedy, developing into comedy, serious and psychological dramas. He is an artist in every sense of the word and a strong disciple of the modern school of art. He unites with a magnetic personality and a splendid method of expression and delivery, and possesses to a marked degree the quality most desired by the public—serenity. His past achievements long ago entitled him to star, but he has modestly withheld until he found the proper vehicle and most satisfactory auspices. Seats will be on sale Friday morning. The scale ranges to $1.50.

MR. J. W. HAWKINS DEAD.

Well-Known Citizen Passed Away Yesterday Evening—Funeral Today.

Many friends in this city and elsewhere will hear with regret of the death of Mr. J. W. Hawkins, which occurred yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of his relative, Mr. T. L. Skinner, No. 823 South Eighth street, this city. Mr. Hawkins had been in ill health for several years and had undergone several operations for kidney trouble both here and in Baltimore. While his death was not unexpected, it will come with sorrow to many friends who knew him so well. He was 62 years of age and leaves a wife and several sisters and brothers, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. Mr. Hawkins was at one time superintendent of the Wilmington cotton mills, in this city, and was held in the highest esteem by all. He had not been actively engaged the past several years and had lived on the Sound with the hope that the change would do him good.

The funeral will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mr. Skipper, in Wilmington, and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery. Members of Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., of which the deceased was a valuable member, is called to meet at the hall and attend the obsequies in a body.

Shifting Engine Wreck.

An A. C. L. shifting engine was wrecked yesterday afternoon near the end of the new office building on the north side of Red Cross street, caused by the turning of a rail. The engine sidetracked an embankment and a freight car against which it was thrown. It was sent to the shops for repairs, having turned nearly completely over. No one was hurt.

Killing of Young W. L. Williams in MacRae Street House Last September.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Jury Empanelled and Two Witnesses
Testified Up to Recess Yesterday
Afternoon—True Bills in Primary Irregularities.

The trial of young Lonnie Snipes, charged with the killing of young W. L. Williams, a traveling man, in a MacRae street house in this city on the night of the 14th of last September, was begun in the Superior Court yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock. It was in the afternoon before the panel of a jury was complete, and only the preliminary testimony for the State had been taken when a recess was taken for the day at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 9:15 this morning. It will require all of today, perhaps a part of tomorrow, to finish the case.

When the case was called yesterday morning young Snipes was in court with his counsel, Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, Herbert McCallamy and Walter P. Gafford, Esqs. Seated near him during the afternoon were his mother, two sisters and a brother. He was clad in a neat suit of black, and appeared confident of the outcome of the trial. At no time did he display any nervousness. The State is represented by Solicitor Duffy unassisted. Of the special venire of 75 drawn the day before for the selection of a jury to try the case, the sheriff returned 50 yesterday morning, many having escaped the process server. These were, however, quite sufficient from which to select the twelve men to pass upon the case. Messrs. Henry Taylor, J. H. M. Ahrens and E. J. Casteen were excused from service for reasons satisfactory to the court. In the selection of the jury, which required until after the dinner recess, the State exhausted its two peremptory challenges by objecting to Messrs. C. D. Gore and J. M. Batson. The defence, likewise, exhausted its four peremptories by objection to Messrs. A. Shrier, J. A. Miller, Archie Warren and H. R. Kuhl. To every one of the veniremen were put the usual questions of having formed and expressed an opinion and the work was tedious from the start. The jury as finally empanelled is composed as follows: Messrs. W. E. Merritt, D. L. Gore, F. Jollye, C. H. Ward, John Kelley, J. G. Barrentine, J. Wallace Carmichael, Alex. A. Dock, J. N. Fennell, George C. Jackson, W. M. Creasy and Capt. John Barry. The jury was given the usual instructions about not discussing the case with the public nor among themselves until all the evidence is in. The panel is regarded as a very strong one, and is remarked upon as one of the best ever drawn in the county. They will not be allowed to separate until the verdict is rendered and are being kept at the Court House in charge of a bailiff. Yesterday afternoon after a recess had been taken, they were taken for some exercise and had supper down town. They are provided with cots for sleeping in the Court House.

The only two witnesses examined yesterday were Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, who held an inquest over the body, and Dr. Slocum, surgeon in charge of the hospital. They testified largely to the character of the wound, etc. As yet no witnesses have been called as to the actual facts of the killing.

Dr. Bell testified that he held an inquest over the body of Williams the morning after the tragedy; the wound was just above the right eye brow; couldn't tell the size of the bullet; the wound looked like the ball had gone straight into the head. There was nothing to show whether the pistol was fired at close range or not. He probed some for the bullet himself. He could not be certain as to the size of the bullet from the fact that the hospital surgeons had been probing in the wound for the ball before he came.

Dr. Slocum testified that Dr. E. P. Gray, of his staff, brought the body to the hospital. Williams was then unconscious and brain matter was exuding from the wound in the head. From the wound he would judge that the ball was about a 32-calibre, larger rather than smaller than that, if anything. The shot was not fired at close range enough to burn the skin. There was a very little powder and grime on the edge of the puncture. The immediate cause of the death was hemorrhages caused by the shot. Williams had no coat and hat when brought to the hospital.

Very little attention was given to the cross-examination of either of these witnesses by the defence, which indicates that they have other cards to play in the game for their client's freedom. It is plainly to be seen from the progress of the trial thus far that the attorneys are strongly confident of absolute acquittal. The line of defence, it is almost certain, will be that Snipes did not fire the fatal shot at all; that it was fired by another; by whom, it is not up to them to say. The pistol taken from Snipes on the night of the killing had but one cartridge fired, according to Officers M. A. Jones and Tatum, who took it from him before he was sent to the hospital, himself wounded by Special

ROOSEVELT-HARRIMAN ROW.

President Roosevelt is unfortunate in the excess of his controversies in which a question of veracity is involved. In every instance he calls the other fellow a liar, but it does seem remarkable that so many men have a way of lying on him or about him, to take his word for it. However, the President takes one's credulity when he expects us to believe that so many of those who go up against him are really deliberate liars and he is absolutely correct every time. The incidents in which he is misunderstood are entirely too numerous for the public to believe that he is always right and the other man is a liar.

This time he denounces E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate and Wall Street manipulator, as the author of "a deliberate and wilful untruth—by right it should be characterized an even shorter and more ugly word." The occasion which brings about the giving of the lie to Harriman is a sensation which was sprung in New York on Tuesday by the publication of a private letter written by Harriman in 1895, telling his friend, Sidney Webster, of New York, why he (Harriman) took part in the Presidential campaign in 1904, and moreover Harriman's statement that Roosevelt sent for him during the campaign, and urged him to raise $250,000 to carry New York for him, the President having been seized with fear over the strong probability that the Democrats would carry that State for Judge Parker. Mr. Harriman also wrote his friend that Roosevelt had deceived him by promising to name Senator Chauncey M. Depew as Ambassador to France and then went back on that promise. For these and other statements of Harriman President Roosevelt in his version of the matter given out to the press at Washington Tuesday afternoon, bluntly and flatly declares in almost the words that Harriman is a liar. Even if Harriman were mistaken about the matter or misunderstood the President, or is even a liar, President Roosevelt's version by no means saves him from the disclosure of some ugly facts. In fact, the President in his version states that he did send for and consult Harriman about the danger of defeat for the New York State Republican ticket, a circumstance which shows that Roosevelt was dicker with the money power to save him and his party in New York. Harriman had every reason to believe that when he was sent for as a confidential adviser, President Roosevelt was friendly to railroad and corporate interests, and that they had nothing to fear from him, if he were elected President. He made that impression on Harriman and other great financiers and they dug down in their pockets to elect him, as the insurance investigation shows and which is now borne out by Harriman's statement that he got busy and raised a Roosevelt campaign fund—whether the President urged him to do so or not, having nothing to do with the actual fact that Harriman did subscribe money and got his other opulent friends to chip in. Whether Harriman is a liar or not in connection with the Webster letter, the facts are that Roosevelt was depending on the Harriman class of corporationists and financiers to elect him, as shown by the President's own version, and that they did actually raise the funds that carried New York.

Harriman could have made the statement in the Webster letter, if he had wanted to do it, that during that 1904 campaign Roosevelt misled him to believe that "the interests" would not be hurt by his election. The plain inference for Harriman to draw was that the subscriptions of the corporations and the money power would guarantee Presidential indulgence. However, the course of the President during his term shows that he did not consider himself bound to the Harrimans for their money favors, and it is plain to observe that Harriman is now acting like a man who believes that he had been flimflammed. The whole business is a scandal whatever view may be taken of it.

COTTON NORTH AND SOUTH.

An editorial on this subject in Tuesday's Washington Post is so interesting and full of information that The Star copies it. The Post's observations can go without comment, as they speaking for themselves and will be read with deep interest by Star readers. The Post says:

"That the cotton manufacturing industry of the United States will eventually be solidly centered in the cotton-producing section may be regarded as a thing decreed by natural and economic laws. New England will be compelled to substitute other industries for her great interests in cotton. The process of transfer from the East to the South, which began some decades ago, and has not been halted, is bound to go on to a finish. But that consummation will not arrive in the immediate future. The Yankee is not easily ousted from any enterprise in which he has secured a solid footing. He has been both surprised and disgusted at some of the results of the war of early '60's. It did not occur to him when he was importuning President Lincoln to put an end to slavery that a free South would reach out a long and strong arm and grasp his great industry of manufacturing raw cotton into innumerable varieties of goods. Perhaps he might have been just as zealous for freeing the slaves if he had foreseen all that, but a doubt on this point is not altogether unreasonable. At this time the cotton interest of the South flourishes abundantly, and rejoiceth even with joy and singing." All the mills are crowded with work, and are paying good dividends. New mills are going up all the time. And cotton producers are quite as satisfactorily situated. The Chicago Tribune mentions the cheering fact that, according to present indications, this year's cotton crop will bring a return of more than $700,000,000, an amount exceeding by $300,000,000 the total gold production of the world for 1906. The larger part of this money will come from Europe. And further the Tribune submits that when a comparison is made between the cotton crop of the last six years preceding that period it is seen that there has been an increase in aggregate value of more than a billion and a quarter dollars.

"But Massachusetts is still erecting cotton mills. The Boston Herald of the 30th ultimo says: 'Mr. Foss testifies to his abounding faith in the future of Boston by putting, with associates, from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 into a group of cotton mills at East Boston. He predicts among other things, that the product will fill some of those ballasted spaces in outgoing vessels. Success to his enterprise!' Probably this Mr. Foss is identical with the Mr. Foss who, although a Republican, is one of the strongest opponents of the standpatters, and as insistent a tariff revisionist as Gov. Gull. It is not believable that any of the Massachusetts revisionists are in favor of cutting down the cotton schedule. They count, as well they may, on the retention of high duties on all manufactures of this textile. The graceful manner in which the Democratic tariff builders of 1894 accepted the schedule prepared by the Arkwright Club and offered by Senator Aldrich, was just what will happen when, if ever, there comes another Democratic revision of tariff. Abolition of duties on manufactured cotton would kill the cotton industry 'as dead as a door nail,' both North and South. The Southern Democrats realize this as intelligently and feelingly as the New England Republicans. The tariff being a local issue in the sense that local interests dictate the schedules by careful log-rolling combinations, such as have been a factor in national legislation ever since the First Congress, there is no danger of opening our ports for free cotton goods."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—It begins to look as if they might fix Harry Thaw's punishment at nothing less than a full and frank apology to the Stanford White estate.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—Some well-fixed American citizens appear to think that the chief merit of Congress is that it keeps the President out of other mischief.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—The startling news comes from Texas that the Legislature there has passed a law that punishes by imprisonment for ten days any person found guilty of playing cards in a private house for a prize. Just think what our Legislature might have done had it been evilly disposed. We ought to be thankful after the manner of the Pharisee.—Raleigh Times.

—Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, was received with brass band and fire works on his return home from Washington. The festivities lasted all day and part of the night. There were two receptions and a banquet, and, of course, a speech. In his speech, as we learn by the Baltimore Sun's report, Bailey declared unequivocally for Bryan for President and took himself out of the Presidential race. This was a surprise, for ever since Bailey and Bryan served in Congress together, over twelve years ago, they have been politically unfriendly.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TWINKLINGS.

—"It takes a great deal of intelligence to amass a colossal fortune." "Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Stax, "and a lot more to know just what to do with it when you've got it."—Washington Star.

—"Well, I finally summoned up the courage to speak to her father last night. I tell you it was a great relief." "Gee! what did he say?" "Oh, you misunderstand me. He wasn't in."—Philadelphia Press.

—"But, George, you promised you'd be a good boy." "Well, you see, mamma, I was just tryin' to make true what you told Aunt Matilda." "What did I tell Aunt Matilda?" "You told her I was a promisin' child."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

—"Bobbie, it hurts me to punish you." "Then don't stop, sir."—Life.

—"I believe the safest financial course is a temperate one." "Yes, but how can you follow such a course when money is tight?"—Baltimore American.

J. T. Ebert, formerly of 515 South Sixth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were very much worried about her, and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and, in fact, Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a parasitic parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without it, dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

COMMON SENSE VIEW.

Why Viola Decided to Marry Young Harry Wilkins.

"Father, I would like to see you in the library on a matter of business."
"Very well, Viola; come along. Now, then, what is it?"
"Father, you are aware that Harry Wilkins has been paying me his attentions the last year?"

"Yes, and I've felt like kicking him! The idea of a Wilkins daring to aspire to the hand of a Grafton!"

"He has asked me to be his wife."

"The scoundrel! Why, I'll"—
"And I've almost promised," she placidly continued.

"What, what! My daughter marry a Wilkins on $25 a week? Never! Go to your room while I seek out this base adven—"

"Father, I want to talk real business to you," she interrupted. "Have you seen the marriage statistics of London for the last year?"

"No, of course not! The idea of Harry Wilkins skulking around after my"—
"Wait! According to the statistics, this city has $71,240 more females than males. There are 220,890 more marriageable girls than can find husbands, to say nothing of 182,321 widows who are very anxious for a No. 2. The number of young men in London earning over $15 a week and in the market is only 22,107. There are after these young men exactly 220,000 young women and 150,000 widows. Three out of every five children born are girls. Death removes two young men to one married man or old bachelor."

The old man turned pale and grasped a chair for support. After a pause she continued:

"From June to October over 80,000 marriageable young women visit fashionable watering places, and it is estimated that 31,442 of them catch husbands, thus further reducing the chances of a resident cockney. Father, take this pencil and figure out your Viola's chances of catching another man if she lets Harry Wilkins canter away."

"Great Jimminy!" he gasped, figuring for a moment. "Why, your chances are only one in 21,875,947!"

"Just as I figure it out. What shall I say to him this evening?"

"Say! Say! Why, tell him you'll have him and be mighty glad of the chance! And don't let him draw a long breath before you add that the ceremony can take place right after breakfast tomorrow morning and that I'm to give you a wedding present of $500 in cash!"—Tit-Bits.

Two Muffs in One.

She sat between her two lovers in the trap. George was driving, and Edward was pressed closely against the rail. The night was dark, but the horse was old and knew his way. This gave George an opportunity to hold the reins in one hand and also to slip the other into the lady's unoccupied muff. Presently—well, two hands were tenderly pressing each other.

The end of the drive came at last, and a sweet, small voice whispered:

"When you two gentlemen have quite done with my muff perhaps you will be kind enough to let me have it."

Then did two sworn enemies alight from the trap with thoughts that could scarcely be expressed coherently in presentable language.—Judge.

The Elm Incident.

Washington was taking formal command of the Continental army at Cambridge. He crooked his arm, placed his elbow against the historic elm and rested his head on his hand. Then he addressed the ill assorted gathering of patriots. In the midst of his remarks his elbow suddenly glided from the tree and Washington completely lost his equilibrium.

"Why didn't you inform me," said the great general, with dignity, "that this tree was a slippery elm?"—Woman's Home Companion.

One He'd Missed.

Borrowby—Let's see. Do I owe you anything?

Morrowby—Not a cent, my boy. Going round paying your little debts?

Borrowby—No. I was going round seeing if I had overlooked anybody. Lend me five till Saturday, will you?—Lippincott's Magazine.

Cornered.

She—And is my Percy quite happy?
He—Certainly, pet. I wouldn't dare to be anything else.—Sketch.

How It Terminated.

Husband—Did you discharge the cook this morning?

Wife—Well, you know, I meant to, but before I could do it I gathered from her language that she had discharged me.—Houston Post.

FOR CLERKS AND CARRIERS.

Civil Service Examination on May 22—Positions Pay Well.

A civil service examination for the position of clerk and carrier in the postoffice service will be held in this city on May 22nd for male applicants only. Full particulars may be obtained by applying to Mr. J. D. Doscher, secretary of the local board. There are some very good positions in this branch of the service and the number of applications will doubtless be large. There are six grades of the clerks and carriers who receive, according to promotion, $600, $800, $900, $1,000, $1,100 and $1,200. Employees are eligible to promotion to all six of the grades and in second-class offices to the fourth grade. The age limit for examination for these positions is 18 to 45 years and are required to show satisfactory knowledge of spelling, arithmetic, letter writing, penmanship, copying, United States geography and reading addresses.

THE AXMINSTER LIBELLED.

Tugs Blanche and Marion Make Large Claims for Salvage.

The British steamer Axminster, Savannah to Manchester, with valuable cargo, which was pulled off Frying Pan Shoals last Sunday, was libelled yesterday by the owners of the Wilmington tugs Blanche and Marion, it having been impossible for the parties at interest to agree upon a salvage claim. The tugs ask for their services $40,000, and have brought action in the United States Court to recover that amount. The libellants are represented by Messrs. Rountree & Carr and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan. The marshal went down to Southport yesterday and took possession of the ship. She will be bonded, however, and will proceed on her voyage in a day or two. The case in admiralty to settle the salvage matter will probably be taken up at the April term of the Federal Court in this city.

AN AFTERNOON WEDDING.

Mr. Thomas E. Applewhite Weds Mrs. Eugenia Dickey Robinson.

A pretty and impressive wedding ceremony was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock in St. Thomas' Catholic Church, the Rev. Father C. Dennen officiating, when Mr. Thomas E. Applewhite, a popular young resident of this city and a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Applewhite, of Cronly, claimed as a bride Mrs. Eugenia Dickey Robinson, of this city. The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends and relatives, who extended happiest congratulations after the wedding. Mr. B. F. Applewhite, brother of the groom, was best man, while Mrs. Applewhite was dame of honor at the service.

The bride wore a becoming going-away gown of grey silk, trimmed with blue velvet and hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by friends, repaired to the Seaboard station, whence they took their departure for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist, 50c.

Junior Warden—Mr. J. A. Gregory.

NICARAGUA MAKES PROTEST.

American Minister Interfering in Central American War.

Washington, April 3.—Mr. Core, the Nicaraguan Minister, called at the State Department today and inquired as to what authority Philip I. Brown, secretary of the American Legation to Guatemala and Honduras, had for his interference with the bombardment of Amapala, Honduras, by the Nicaraguan forces. Mr. Core's advisers from his home government show that Mr. Brown went to Amapala by the courtesy of the Nicaraguan officers, assuring them that he hoped to persuade President Bonilla, of Honduras, to surrender, thus ending the bombardment of the city. The Nicaraguans consented to cease firing for twenty-four hours. Before that time Mr. Brown went to La Union, Salvador, and from there he directed a protest on behalf of Salvador against the renewal of the bombardment of Amapala, saying that Salvador would regard such action as a declaration of war by Nicaragua against the Salvadorean republic. It is the desire of the Nicaraguan government to learn by what right Mr. Brown is acting for Salvador. Such interference on his part is a radical step and all Central American republics are much interested in the outcome.

State Department officials have refused to disclose what Mr. Brown's instructions have been.

President Bonilla is still surrounded at Amapala so far as the State Department knows, but the bombardment of the town by Nicaraguan gunboats has ceased, according to dispatches received today from Philip I. Brown, secretary to the American legation to Guatemala and Honduras.

The United States cruiser Chicago and the gunboat Princeton are both known to be lying near the island on which Amapala is situated and the presence of these two American warships is supposed to be largely responsible for the halt in the bombardment.

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, April 3.—According to reports circulated here from Honduras, when the invading Nicaraguan and Honduran revolutionary armies occupied Tegucigalpa they plundered the place and murdered several persons. The children of General Teofilo Carcamo, of 30TH, 1906, SERIAL NUMBER 1098, tutsa-tf is added, were hanged by the invaders.

TRUST-BUSTING CONFERENCE.

President and Cabinet Confer About Forthcoming Prosecutions.

Washington, April 3.—An important conference was held at the White House today on the subject of trust prosecutions now under way by the Department of Justice. Those present included four members of the cabinet, Messrs. Root, Bonaparte, Garfield and Cortelyou. The so-called tobacco trust was one of the subjects discussed.

The discussion was general and without reference to any particular trust or corporation and no conclusions were reached. Attorney General Bonaparte, it is said, is outlining a programme for action. He submitted his plans to the President and his cabinet associates with the view of receiving any suggestions as to the best methods to pursue when the administration is ready to resume the trust prosecutions.

SNIPES TRIAL BEGUN

Officer C. T. Croom as he ran from the house. Officer Croom testified that as Snipes ran from the house, he in pursuit, that Snipes turned on him and fired back at him. As only one ball was missing from his revolver later, he could not have fired the shot in the house and at Croom in the street. This, it is certain, will be a strong point to be developed by the attorneys for the defence. But, strange to say, the pistol taken from Snipes is not now able to be located. There are a number, however, who testify that they saw the revolver immediately after the shooting, and that only one cartridge in the cylinder had been fired. From the fact that Snipes was wounded from the front Officer Croom's story of Snipes' having fired upon him in the street is substantiated, in which event he could not have fired from his own pistol into Williams in the house. Officer Croom says that he fired three times at Snipes in the street and three cartridges were missing from his revolver when it was taken the night of the shooting. These are points to which the defence was clearly leading up to yesterday afternoon.

J. J. Watters, the young man summoned by the defence from Pender county, is not a boyhood friend of the defendant, as was erroneously stated in the paper yesterday; in fact young Snipes had known him only eight days. Furthermore, the family is not from Pender county, but from Anderson, S. C. He has been living with his mother, brother and sisters in this city for eight or ten years. His father died in Wilmington shortly after removing here some years ago. Mr. Watters, it is said, will be an important witness for the defence.

The taking of testimony will be resumed immediately on the convening of court this morning. Former Officer C. T. Croom, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, will be the main witness for the State, and every effort possible will be made by the defence to discredit his testimony.

Before the calling of the Snipes case yesterday the following matters were disposed of:

Henry Myers, colored, carrying concealed weapons; pleaded guilty; four months on the roads.
Annie Blocker, Hannah Blocker, Missouri Pollock and John Henry, assault with a deadly weapon; verdict of guilty as to Annie Blocker and Hannah Blocker; not guilty as to the others.

Charles Wilson, housebreaking and larceny; three years on public roads.

The grand jury during the day returned true bills in the county primary election complications against Registrar C. T. Snaw, in the Second ward, and Messrs. C. H. Keen and J. H. Hewlett, who were present in the count in the Fourth Ward, where it was alleged more ballots were found in the box than there were ballots cast. The violation in the Second Ward at least is a technical one, and was over the registration of the name of Mr. G. J. Boney, whose name was placed on the books after the hour of closing, a mistake having been made before in telling him that his name was on the book, when, as a matter of fact, it was not, or at least could not be found. These cases will come up at the next term, perhaps, and are not expected to amount to much.

FIRE HORROR IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Bride and Groom Lose Lives by Burning of Hotel.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)
Sutton, W. Va., April 3.—Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Garee were burned to death, and John Martin of Fairmont, W. Va., narrowly escaped a similar death tonight when the River View Hotel was destroyed by fire, causing a monetary loss of $18,000.

Dr. and Mrs. Garee were married in Moundsville, W. Va., and were en route to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Garee, where a wedding supper was awaiting their coming. Mrs. Garee was Miss Elizabeth Wingo, of Moundsville. Dr. Garee was 28 years of age and had just finished his medical education.

The fire originated in the laundry of the hotel and within a few minutes the building was enveloped in flames. John Martin had an interior room and when he heard the cry of fire he made his way into the room occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Garee and leaped from the window. He says the two bodies were lying on the floor.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work" had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery which in my case proved to be the only REAL cough cure and restorer of weak sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL cure. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist, 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Mr. W. H. King, aged 46 years, a popular citizen of Raleigh and one of the best known druggists in the State, died in Raleigh on Tuesday morning as the result of a surgical operation and a complication of diseases.

—Newbern, April 2: The damage by frost is slight here. Interviews with leading truckers say that they have not suffered by the frost at all. Others say crops were touched slightly.

—Near La Grange on Sunday morning fire of unknown origin destroyed Mr. W. S. Uzzle's barn, stables, corn, fodder, farming implements and fine tons of fertilizer. There was some insurance.

—Snow Hill, April 2: Track on the Snow Hill-Kinston Railway has been laid to the Greene county line, and the management expects to begin handling freight for the people along its line. The grading force is well over in Greene now.

—Faison, April 2: Damage by the cold last night was inconsiderable as there was no frost. It is feared that crops will be hurt severely to-night as there is every indication of frost. Beans have been slightly damaged, but a big frost would kill the crop.

—Fayetteville, April 2: It is practically assured that a big sash, door and blind factory is to be located in Fayetteville, with a capital of from $75,000 to $100,000. Mr. A. H. Slocomb has given the parties interested an option on a site, and he thinks that the factory will be located here.

—The law partnership of Pou & Fuller, at Raleigh, has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Thomas S. Fuller retires to become a member of the law firm of Nicoll, Anable & Lindsay, of New York. Mr. James H. Pou retains the law business at Raleigh.

—Kinston, April 2: Master Paul Cheney, who was shot some weeks ago, underwent a skin graft operation at the hospital Saturday night. Two large ulcers which refused to heal were engrafted with new tissue taken from the lad's father's arm. Mr. Cheney permitting its removal without taking any anaesthetic or anodyne. Master Paul is doing well.

—Kinston, April 2: Effective today Mr. J. R. Hawkins, who has been superintendent of the P. O. & W. Railroad, becomes superintendent of the Beaufort division of the Norfolk & Southern as well, succeeding Mr. S. L. Dill, who becomes general agent. Superintendent Hawkins, in company with Mr. Dill, was in the city today getting a line on the affairs of the road.

—Saulsbury suffered a disastrous fire Tuesday, the aggregate loss being about $30,000 with partial insurance. The fire originated in the roof of the Barber Buggy Company from a spark from an engine on the premises. The factory and stock consumed was valued at $8,000. The fire communicated to several business houses, the second largest losers being V. Wallace & Son's building valued at $7,000.

—Mt. Olive, April 2: Strawberries were damaged very little here by the severe cold weather last night, though the full extent of damage cannot be told until the thermometer rises and the warm sun comes out. The cold snap will doubtless greatly retard the shipping season. A strong wind prevailed all night and prevented heavy frost, which would have resulted very disastrously. The bean crop is not very far advanced, but all that were up are destroyed.

—Kinston, April 2: Fire resulting from a careless negro tenant's act in burning off a little patch of weeds when a strong wind was blowing Friday afternoon, ruined 75 acres of ten-year-old forest growth and destroyed a half mile of fence for Mrs. Winnie Suggs at her place two miles from the city. The fire spread rapidly and increased in intensity until disaster threatened many in the section, but the alarm brought help quickly and the flames were stopped.

—Elizabeth City, April 2: News was received this morning of the drowning of Mr. Robt. Cane, yesterday afternoon in Mill Tail Creek, a branch of Alligator River. Mr. Cane was in a gasoline yacht with Mr. Twiford and he accidentally fell from the moving yacht into the water and was drowned. His body never came to the surface and has not been recovered yet. Mr. Cane was about 30 years old and a young man highly esteemed in this section.

—High Point, April 2: The High Point manufacturers expect to be well represented at the Jamestown Exposition, and to this end are already engaged in getting out samples to be placed on exhibition and literature giving desired information to those who are looking this way. In addition to this the Enterprise of this city is getting out a large number of sixty-page booklets of High Point and her manufacturing interests, which will be distributed gratuitously. It will be a handsome souvenir, containing forty catchy views and some twenty pages of reading matter.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.
New York, April 3.—The cotton market continued quiet during today's early session and showed little feature until near the close, when there was quite an active demand and a considerable advance during the last prices with a gain of 11 to 15 points. The sales of the day were estimated at 75,000 bales. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of two points, which was about as due on the different cables. The weather map showed frost in parts of the eastern belt, but it seemed the impression that no damage was being done, and warmer weather was predicted during the early session in an effort, presumably to break the market, but the cotton was well taken and the market began to steady up toward midday on scattered covering, which may have been promoted by lighter receipts and reports that government experiments with seed showed that the seed was less fertile than that of the previous season. Trading continued quiet at prices a few points over the closing figures of yesterday, until near the close, when demand became quite active and prices showed a net gain of about 11 to 16 points. The close was at practically the best point of the session. The buying on the advance was rumored to be largely for a prominent St. Louis house. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8c lower. Receipts at the ports today, 15,094 bales, against 27,210 last week, and 18,970 last year. For the week, 125,000 bales (estimated), against 147,231 last week, and 113,955 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 5,138 bales, against 1,849 last year, and at Houston, 5,453 against 3,784 last year.
Spot cotton quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 10.95; middling gulf, 11.20; no sales.

CRITICAL STAGE FOR HARRY THAW

Lunacy Commission Has Completed Its Examination of White's Slayer.

REPORT TO COURT TO-DAY

It May Mean Asylum for Thaw or Continuance of Trial—Thaw as Mentally and Physically Examined Yesterday.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) New York, April 3.—Tomorrow brings another critical stage in the case of Harry K. Thaw, when the slayer of Stanford White will either be officially proclaimed insane and ordered sent away to a State asylum or his trial will be resumed before Justice Fitzgerald upon the finding of the lunacy commission that the defendant is at this time capable of rightly understanding his own position, of appreciation of the nature of the charges against him and of rationally advising with his counsel. The commission completed its work tonight, and will be ready to report to Justice Fitzgerald tomorrow morning.

Thaw underwent a private mental and physical examination for more than two hours this afternoon. In this last crucial test he was entirely alone before the commission, even the District Attorney and the members of his own counsel being barred. When the three members of the commission—David McClure, Peter B. Olney and Dr. Leopold Puzel—had completed their final examination, they shook hands with Thaw in a cordial manner. He went back to his cell in the Tombs with a light heart and declared later to his counsel that he felt the commission would surely declare him sane tomorrow. The attorneys shared their client's optimistic view of the situation. District Attorney Jerome would not commit himself in any way. Thaw's counsel declared they were ready to proceed with the case tomorrow, and believed that Mr. Delmas might begin his summing up address before noon. In that event, they said, Mr. Jerome would address the jury on Friday and a verdict might be expected before the week end.

There is little or no likelihood that the report of the commission which has inquired into Thaw's present mental state will ever be made public. If the decision favors Thaw, Justice Fitzgerald will merely order the trial to proceed without any reference whatsoever to the interruption which began two weeks ago.

Should the decision be against Thaw Justice Fitzgerald would have to quote but briefly from the formal findings of the commission in his order committing the young man to an asylum. If committed, Thaw would have to remain in the asylum until declared sane by the superintendent of the institution. Then he would be brought back to the city and tried again.

The last public session of the commission was held this morning to hear the testimony of two more alienists—Dr. Allen Rose Diefendorf, of Middletown, Conn., for the prosecution, and Dr. Charles G. Wagner, of Binghamton, N. Y., for the defense. Dr. Diefendorf gave a purely academic decision, based upon assumed facts and workings of the defendant, and declared Thaw was incompetent. Dr. Wagner said he had talked with the prisoner almost daily for nearly two months, and had been unable to find anything upon which to predicate an opinion of mental unsoundness at this time. He was of willing to go on record, however, as specifically declaring Thaw to be in every sense a sane man. He said he had not sufficient facts before him or sufficient time, in which to reach positively a conclusion.

Dr. Wagner repeated many of his more recent conversations with Thaw and gave the defendant's idea of his present predicament. Thaw declared that he realized his position today was a serious one. He thought, however, that his attorneys had made such good progress during the trial that he was in a much better position than when it was begun. He said he had no delusion now that his act was an act of Providence.

When the commission began its private examination of the defendant the members questioned him particularly about this delusion and others from which it was testified he was suffering at the time he shot and killed Stanford White. Dr. Puzel, of the commission, conducted the brief physical examination, to which Thaw was subjected. He was given all of the standard tests of the reflexes, the pupils of the eyes, the Romberg test for evidences of locomotor ataxia, etc. Thaw is said to have undergone all of these tests in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. The alienists who testified for the defense and who conducted a much more searching physical test than that undertaken by the commission today, declared they were unable to find any really abnormal traces. Dr. B. D. Evans said there was an unusual lump near the base of the skull and also told of Thaw's fluctuating pulse, declaring it was the most extraordinary he had ever met with in his medical experience. The rate of beats often would change four times in a minute.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, attired again in the blue school girl costume of the early days of the trial, was present during most of the public session, and while Thaw was closeted with the commission for his last ordeal she sat in the corridor with members of her husband's counsel.

Attorney Delmas was not present today, but at the end of the inquiry Thaw sent him a note by special messenger telling him to be ready to proceed with his summing up argument tomorrow.

MR. ROOSELETT AND HARRIMAN

President Yesterday Discussed With His Callers Features of This Controversy.

REASON HARRIMAN IS MAD

Railroad Magnate Wanted to Root Senator Dewey Out and Be Senator Himself—Roosevelt Fools Himself About Subscriptions.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Washington, April 3.—President Roosevelt discussed with a number of his callers today various features of the controversy between Mr. Harriman and himself, growing out of the publication of the letters between them. He desired not to be quoted in the matter, however. To his friends, today, the President made it plain that his version of Mr. Harriman's visit preceding the election of 1904 was that Mr. Harriman wanted assistance from the National Republican Committee to help out Chairman Odell in the New York State campaign towards whose expenses he (Harriman) had appropriated $10,000. The President promised to communicate with Messrs. Cortelyou and Bliss to see what could be done. He did in this case, he declared, just what he had done in other instances where he had been appealed to to help in campaigns. To some of his visitors the President referred to the statement made public last night by Judge Alton B. Parker in Albany, in which he said that it has never been denied that $150,000 was turned over by the Equitable, Mutual and New York Life Insurance Companies to Mr. Cortelyou's committee and that Congress had refused to make an investigation into the corporate contributions of 1904 or to pass a law prohibiting such contributions in the future. On this subject the President referred to a statement which he made on November 4, 1904, in which he said in part: "That contributions have been made to the Republican committee, as contributions have been made to the Democratic committee, is not the question at issue. Mr. Parker's assertion is in effect that such contributions have been made for improper motives, either in consequence of threats or in consequence of improper promises, direct or indirect on the part of the recipients. * * * But there is not one particle of truth in the statement," etc.

Neither Mr. Parker nor his supporters, the President declared, have been able to traverse or question the statements made in that answer. The President said to his own knowledge about a dozen contributions offered by corporations had been declined by Chairman Cortelyou, but that others had been accepted. A contribution by the American Tobacco Company, he said, had been returned. A prominent man, he added, had made a contribution of $20,000 to the Republican campaign fund. Subsequently this man had made known his desire for an appointment in the diplomatic service in the event that the President was elected. As soon as his motives were understood the National committee returned his contribution. The President asserted to his callers that none of the corporations that contributed to the campaign fund in 1904 had come to him for favors, either directly or indirectly. In this connection the President referred to the legislation enacted regarding corporations during the last two years as disproving any imputations that immunity would be shown them for their contributions.

It was authoritatively declared at the White House today that the real reason for Mr. E. H. Harriman's interest in the election of the State ticket in New York in 1904, reference to which was made in the communications which passed between him and the President, was that he desired to advance his own ambitions. It is asserted that Mr. Harriman wanted the position of Senator now filled by Mr. Dewey and that this was the reason why he was anxious to have him appointed Ambassador to Paris. The inferences from Mr. Harriman's attitude, according to the statement made at the White House, was that if Senator Dewey could be induced to go to Paris that Governor Higgins was prepared to appoint him to the vacancy.

Pulpits Vacant for Lack of Men to Proclaim Christianity.

Cincinnati, April 3.—The refusal to merge the educational and home and foreign missionary societies of the church, and a plea for two thousand young preachers to fill the unoccupied pulpits, were the features today of a meeting of the American Christian Educational Society. Preliminary to the opening of the Congress a Conference of the American Christian Educational Society was held and the society merger proposition came before that meeting as a suggestion to simplify the business of the church by combining the American Christian Educational Society, the American Christian Society and the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. A negative decision was given almost immediately. It was asserted that it would be unwise to combine the management of the forty colleges of the denomination with the diverse interests of the two missionary societies.

RATE QUESTION AND REGULATION

President Finley of Southern Railway Speaks at Banquet in Greensboro.

SPOKE ON RAILROAD PROBLEM

Rates Cannot Be Fixed Arbitrarily, But Must Depend on Commercial Conditions and Demands—Over-Capitalization Misunderstood.

Greensboro, N. C., April 3.—At the annual banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers Club of Greensboro tonight, W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company, responded to the toast "North Carolina and Its Relations to the Railroad Problem." After discussing the interest of North Carolina in improved railway transportation and pointing out the need of additional railway construction in the State, Mr. Finley spoke of the identity of the interests of the public and the railways and showed what would be the effects upon both of some of the proposed legislation. He said:

"The interests of a railway and of the people dependent on it for transportation are so completely identical that I have no hesitation in saying that every legislative proposition that is inimical to the railroads will be found on careful examination, to be equally inimical, in its ultimate effects to the interests of the people of the territories served by their lines."

Mr. Finley said that, while the capitalization of each railroad must be considered on its merits, he was convinced that there was serious popular error in supposing that there is any considerable over-capitalization of railroads in the United States. He pointed out that some of the arguments as to over-capitalization were based on estimates of average cost of construction that might be ample for lightly built and lightly equipped roads in level or nearly level country, with few bridges and tunnels and without expensive city terminals. Continuing, he said:

"When the entire facilities of the carriers are considered, including rights of way through cities, towns, and elsewhere, terminals, yards, roadbed, tracks, tunnels, structures and equipment, I think it will be admitted by all persons acquainted with the cost of railroad construction, that the property of these carriers could not, generally speaking, be reproduced at a cost equal to their capitalization. But, leaving aside the question as to whether the railroads of this country are over-capitalized, I wish to say to you that the idea that rates are controlled by capitalization is entirely without justification. Capitalization may affect the intrinsic value of a company's securities, and thus affect the investing public. It cannot control a carrier's rate and hence cannot affect the shipping public." He supported this statement by quotations from President Hadley, of Yale, and from Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Finley gave examples of the competition of producing localities, of markets, of carriers, and of commodities to show that railway charges are the outgrowth of economic laws and commercial conditions. "No rate," he said, "can ever, with proper consideration for the business for the country or of the carriers, be made independent of these economic laws—not by legislation arbitrarily fixing the rate and not by capitalization of the carrier likewise arbitrarily fixing the rate. In a broad sense, therefore, the management of a railway is powerless to fix the rates. It must accept the rates that are the resultant of economic and commercial forces which are as absolutely beyond the control of its managers as are the tides of the ocean. That this is true is further shown by the fact that many railroads have never been able to pay dividends on all of their capital stock, while others are unable to pay any dividends at all, and still others are not able to pay interest on their bonded indebtedness. If a railway could adjust its rates to its capitalization, there would be no reason why any road should not earn dividends on its capitalization, and thus forever abolish receiverships and bankruptcies."

"In all the discussion about the supposed relation between railway capitalization and rates, I have been unable to find that any one has attempted to formulate a comprehensive and practicable scheme for basing rates on capitalization. I am convinced that if any one should seriously undertake to work out such a scheme he would soon find it to be absolutely impracticable. Take the case of two railroads competing for business between two common points. One of them may be a line constructed through comparatively level country at a relatively small cost, but the other may be constructed through a mountainous country at very heavy cost. The capitalization of the mountain line may, very properly, be two or three times as great as that of the low grade line. If rates should be based on capitalization the rates on the mountain line would be two or three times those on the other, and the mountain line, because of its high rates, would be put out of business between the competitive points. The loss of its business between these points would probably make it impossible for it to earn, from non-competitive business, alone, enough to pay the interest on its bonds. It would go into the hands of a receiver with no prospect of ever getting out. This presents only one of the minor difficulties in the way of basing rates on capitalization. A perfect maze of the most intricate problems would be presented. If it should be undertaken to adjust rates on different classes of commodities on any such basis. Still another set of difficulties would be confronted in fixing the rates to and from different points, whether competitive or non-competitive.

The rate-maker would have to know in advance just the tonnage of each class of commodities that would be carried, not only as a whole, but the tonnage of each class to and from each station."

Referring to the arguments that rates are kept up in order to pay dividends on watered stock and that if these payments are not made earnings could go to improvements and betterments, Mr. Finley said that this was an entire misconception of the financial situation of the railroads, and he greatly feared that an exaggerated idea of the earnings and wealth of the carriers was at the bottom of much of the exasperated public sentiment and hostile legislation. "The Southern Railway Company since its organization, twelve years ago," he concluded, "spent or contracted to spend, and is in the act of spending more than $26,000,000 for addition to its facilities, and far capitalized betterments and improvements. This means that on its present mileage it has spent, or thus contracted to spend, within a fraction of $14,000 per mile, whereas if every cent of its net earnings, after the payment of interest and without paying one penny of dividends or carrying one penny to surplus, had been expended for these purposes, it would have amounted to only about $3,600 per mile upon its present mileage. The fact is that proper dividends should be paid, in order to create the credit on which a carrier can provide itself, in the money market, with the means to add to its facilities in those particulars which are essential, not only to its own interest as a carrier, but to the interest of the public at large."
